MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Alder, John, Palgrave Law Masters: Constitutional and Administrative Law 8th ed, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £21.99, ISBN: 9780230285705

Constitutional and Administrative Law provides a comprehensive and very readable introduction to the basic legal principles of the UK constitution. Critical yet accessible, the book places the law in the context of the main political ideas which have influenced its development and discusses some of the most fundamental questions about government. This new edition is fully updated, with more detailed coverage of aspects of administrative law and an increased focus on human rights/civil liberties. There will also be a fully updated companion website.

Ashton, David; Reid, Paul W., Ashton & Reid on Clubs and Associations 2nd ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846612510

The diverse range of legal issues that can arise in the course of a club or associations activities present difficulties for those advising clubs, with problems ranging from interpretation of club rules to sex and disability discrimination. Legal issues like these can span employment law, property law, taxation, company law, licensing and litigation. Ashton & Reid on Clubs and Associations is the definitive guide to the legal framework in which clubs and associations operate, bringing together the various strands of law to provide practical legal advice for clubs and their advisers. This new edition has been fully updated to cover important new case-law and recent legislative developments. In addition, the work includes a full set of Model rules as well as other useful material in the appendices.

Bariatti, Stefania, Cases and Materials on EU Private International Law, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £40.00, ISBN: 9781849460279

This book, which assembles all the relevant Community acts and ECJ decisions in one place, provides a guide to the maze of legal instruments now in place, supplemented by brief commentaries identifying the leading principles and anticipating future developments.

Barker, Kerry; Stevens, Henry, Club Law Manual 2nd ed, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9780854900626

Members' clubs have for many years enjoyed a special status at law, in particular in relation to the supply and sale of alcohol. Club Law Manual was intended to provide a practical but authoritative guide to the relevant law to lawyers and non-lawyers alike and, to police officers and local authorities and their staff. This second edition not only brings this much used book up-to-date but enhances the original text by introducing chapters on gambling and fund-raising, hearings and appeals. Chapters on liabilities, employment, health and safety and food safety have been re-written to include issues raised by readers.

Barlow, John; King, Lesley; King, Anthony, Wills, Administration and Taxation: A Practical Guide 10th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £38.95, ISBN: 9780414045958 Wills, Administration and Taxation Law and Practice applies a practical approach to a subject which forms a large part of the work of many solicitors. It deals comprehensively with tax considerations, the substantive law and also covers drafting, probate practice and procedure.

Basedow, Jürgen; Wurmnest, Wolfgang, Structure and Effects in EU Competition Law: Studies on Exclusionary Conduct and State Aid, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £92.00, ISBN: 9789041131744

Applying law and economics theory to competition law, this book shows that the 'more economic' approach is exerting a considerable impact on various sectors of competition law. The authors clearly demonstrate the progress that can be made when lawyers and economists take notice of and respect the characteristics of each other's discipline. Moreover, the authors show how new insights of economic theory may be integrated into the relevant legal analysis. The book will therefore be appreciated by academics, practitioners, and officials representing both fields.

Bogdanor, Vernon, The Coalition and the Constitution, Hart

Publishing, Hardback, £20.00, ISBN: 9781849461580

The Coalition and the Constitution analyses the significance of coalition government for Britain and of the momentous constitutional reforms which the coalition is proposing. In doing so it seeks to penetrate the cloud of polemic and partisanship to provide an objective analysis for the informed citizen.

Borzsak, Levente, The Impact of Environmental Concerns on the Public Enforcement Mechanism under EU law: Environmental protection in the 25th hour, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9789041134080

This timely book identifies some of the weaknesses of the public enforcement mechanism inherent in Articles 258–260 TFEU, and suggests how that mechanism could be improved in order to promote the overall effectiveness of EU law and environmental law in particular. Starting from the idea that the European Union lacks a strong enforcement body to prevent Member States from exploiting loopholes in its legal system, the author thoroughly investigates the extent to which the effectiveness of the EU's public enforcement provisions depends on voluntary compliance or on actual enforcement mechanisms. He shows that, while preventive procedures should always precede enforcement actions, European environmental law cannot be sufficiently promoted without stronger legal enforcement measures.

Busby, Niciole, A Right to Care? Unpaid Work in European Employment Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199579020

This book considers the reconciliation of unpaid care and paid work which is among the most pressing and difficult problems currently facing employment law. Nicole Busby explores the potential for the development of a specific right to care within European employment law which would facilitate the reconciliation of these two central aspects of an individual's life and, in raising the status of care, would assist in the rebalancing of paid and unpaid work between men and women.

Law: Methods and Typologies, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780854900923

The first book in decades to explore the historical, jurisprudential, and methodological foundations of modern comparative legal studies in the former Soviet Union, it is without precedent there in its breadth of authorship and methodological originality. For the western reader it constitutes a thoroughly representative introduction to the New Wave of comparative legal studies on the territory of the Independent States. Some issues that engage comparatists there are long familiar in the West; others are relatively new to the field in general, usually with an unusual twist generated by Eastern experience or philosophical disposition.

Calliess, Graf-Peter, The Rome Regulations: Commentary on the European Rules on the Conflict of Laws, Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, £156.00,

ISBN: 9789041125866

This new book aims to help with the challenges created by the Regulations. It will be of help for both academics and legal professionals seeking their way through the Regulations. Renowned conflict of laws scholars comment on every provision of the Regulations in a systematic, thorough and comprehensive manner, making them accessible to a broad international legal audience.

Cherkassky, Lisa; Cressey, Julia; Gale, Christopher; et al, Legal Skills, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780230230088

A comprehensive and accessible guide to the academic and practical skills needed in the study of law, including essential techniques for legal research, reasoning, writing, advocacy, negotiation, interviewing and advising. Also features an extensive section on career development.

Coates, Kevin, Competition

Law and Regulation of Technology Markets, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199575213

The influence of European Competition Law is global, and Competition Law and Regulation of Technology Markets takes a practical, integrated approach to competition law, which is becoming increasingly prominent in the technology sector in Europe - as demonstrated by a number of high profile cases such as Microsoft, Sony/BMG and Intel. The book considers how EU competition rules interact with regulation, intellectual property law and data protection rules, and goes on to analyse the application of competition rules in four fields; communications networks, industrial intellectual property, creative intellectual property, and electronic commerce and services.. The book charts a clear path through this complex interaction of rules, and provides the competition law practitioner with the necessary tools to advise on legal problems in these sectors.

Cordero-Moss, Giuditta, Boilerplate Clauses, International Commercial Contracts and the Applicable Law: Common Law Contract Models and Commercial Transactions Subject to Civilian Governing Laws, Cambridge University Press, Hardcover, £70.00, ISBN: 9780521197892

With the aim of creating an autonomous regime for the interpretation and application of the contract, boilerplate clauses are often inserted into international commercial contracts without negotiations or regard for their legal effects. The assumption that a sufficiently detailed and clear language will ensure that the legal effects of the contract will only be based on the contract, as opposed to the applicable law, was originally encouraged by English courts, and today most international contracts have these clauses, irrespective of the governing law. This collection of essays demonstrates that this assumption is not fully applicable under systems of civil law, because these systems are based on principles, such as good faith and loyalty, which contradict this approach.

Corten, Oliver; Klein, Pierre, The Vienna Conventions on the Law of Treaties: A Commentary, Oxford University Press, Hardback, 2 Volumes, £375.00, ISBN: 9780199546640

The 1969 and the 1896 Vienna Conventions on the Law of Treaties are essential components of the contemporary international legal order. They aim at regulating what has become the main source of public international law and a crucial tool in interstate relations. The Vienna Conventions codify to a significant extent the customary rules that pre-existed in the field, but also put forward innovative concepts, such as ius cogens. In spite of their importance, these two instruments had so far not been the object of a detailed commentary. These volumes fill the gap, by providing both international and national lawyers with an in-depth analysis of each provision of both conventions.

Coyle, Brian, The Non-Executive Director's Handbook 2nd ed, ICSA Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781860724619

The Non-Executive Directors Handbook offers NEDs, aspiring NEDs and their advisers an essential insight into the work of the non-executive director. It provides an accessible and practical guide to the increasingly significant role non-executives play in the independent oversight of organisations. The Handbook guides the reader through the lifecycle of the non-executive, starting pre-appointment and addressing along the way topics such as legal duties and liabilities, boardroom behaviour and dynamics and the role NEDs play on board committees.

Cryer, Robert; Hervey, Tamara; Sokhi-Bulley, Bal, Research Methodologies in EU and International Law, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £22.50, ISBN: 9781841132358

Law PhD students often begin their PhDs without having an awareness of methodology, or the opportunity to think about the practice of research and its theoretical implications. Law Schools are, however, increasingly alive to the need to provide training in research methods to their students. They are also alive to the need to develop the research capacities of their early career scholars, not least for the Research Excellence Framework exercise. This book offers a structured approach to doing so, focusing on issues of methodology - i.e., the theoretical elements of research - within the context of EU and international law.

Cursley, Joe; Davys, Mark,;

Palgrave Law Masters: Land Law 7th ed, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £21.99, ISBN: 9780230284180

A clear introduction to land law, using accessible language and a broad range of features to reinforce understanding of the key cases and concepts. This new edition is comprehensively revised and expanded and is presented in new two-colour text. It is supported by an innovative and useful companion website.

D'Ascoli, Silvia, Sentencing in International Criminal Law: The Approach of the Two ad hoc Tribunals and Future Perspectives for the International Criminal Court, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £67.50, ISBN: 9781849461160

This book deals with sentencing in international criminal law, focusing on the approach of the UN ad hoc Tribunals for the former Yugoslavia (ICTY) and Rwanda (ICTR). The book discusses the law and jurisprudence of the ad hoc Tribunals, and also presents an empirical analysis of influential factors and other data from ICTY and ICTR sentencing practice, thus offering quantitative support for the doctrinal analysis. This publication is one of the first to be entirely devoted to the process of sentencing in international criminal justice. The book will thus be of great interest to practitioners, academics and students of the subject.

Delimatsis, Panos; Herger, Nils, Financial Regulation at the Crossroads: Implications for Supervision, Institutional Design and Trade, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £104.00, ISBN: 9789041133557

The global financial crisis of 2008 and 2009 exposed some of the regulatory and market failures of a more and more globally organized financial system and led to far-reaching discussions about a broad range of academic and policy issues on the regulation of financial services. Against this background, this edited volume brings outstanding expertise and provides insightful perspectives from nineteen authors with diverse backgrounds, including officials from international organizations, national regulators, and commercial banking, as well as academics in law, economics, political economy, and finance. The authors not only shed light on the causes of the financial turmoil, but also present thoughtful proposals that contribute to the future policy debate, and discuss opportunities that financial services can offer in funding activities which raise standards of living through initiatives in microfinance, renewable energy, and food distribution.

Dewar, John, International Project Finance, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £195.00, ISBN: 9780199601448
Project finance is used worldwide to structure and finance natural resource and infrastructure projects and practitioners must have a thorough grasp of the underlying principles of this specialist area. With a logical and helpful structure, this book addresses this need, providing a detailed analysis of practical issues and including checklists to give guidance on the structuring of projects.

Digman, Alan, Hicks and Goo's Cases and Materials on Company Law 7th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99,

ISBN: 9780199564293

Hicks & Goo's Cases and Materials on Company Law guides students through the complexities of company law with a broad selection of source materials, extracts from governmental and non-governmental sources as well as traditional cases and materials that are placed in context with clear commentary. It covers all the principal areas of company law including corporate governance issues and securities and insolvency. The book concentrates on how the law facilitates and regulates the operation of companies, both large and small, reflecting the realities of current practice.

Dunn, Virginia, Be Civil: A Guide to Learning Civil Litigation and Evidence, Worth Publishing, Paperback, £25.00, ISBN: 9781903269206 assessed on the Bar Professional Training Course, with a focus on the topics that must be mastered for the examinations. The book makes reference to relevant primary source materials, gives advice on using practitioner texts, contains revision tips throughout and concludes with a guide to examination technique. It is the culmination of nearly 25 years of experience teaching the subject and making revision fun.

Durston, Gregory, Evidence: Texts and Materials 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £31.99, ISBN: 9780199583607

Evidence: Text & Materials provides a ‘one-stop’, readily accessible resource for students studying the law of evidence. It offers an exceptionally clear and lucid presentation of the law, effectively introducing and guiding students through this challenging and stimulating subject.

Esplugues, Carlos; Iglesias, Jose Luis; Palao, Guillermo, Application of Foreign Law, Sellier, Hardback, £110.00, ISBN: 9783866531550

This book is the first one in Europe dealing in a joint manner with the issue of application of foreign law both by judicial and non-judicial authorities in the European Union. It provides an exhaustive analysis of an issue of very practical relevance. It will become a highly useful tool for all legal practitioners - lawyers, judges, notaries, land registries, academics, ministry officials, public servants, prosecutors etc. - from the European Union and abroad.

Fastenrath, Ulrich; Geiger, Rudolf; Khan, Daniel-Erasmus; Paulus, Andreas; von Schorlemer, Sabine; Vedder, Christoph, From Bilateralism to Community Interest: Essays in Honour of Judge Bruno Simma, Oxford University Press,

Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199588817

This festschrift, dedicated to Judge Bruno Simma, traces the development of international law from regulating bilateral state-to-state relationships towards strengthening the entire international community by protecting human security, the global environment, and human rights. It provides both theoretical and practical insights into these sometimes conflicting goals, their basis in international law, and the role played by international institutions charged with upholding these values and interests.

Finnis, John, The Collected Essays of John Finnis in 5 Volumes, Oxford University Press, Hardback, 5 Volumes, £150.00, ISBN: 9780199580040

For over forty years John Finnis has pioneered the development of a new classical theory of natural law, a systematic philosophical explanation of human life that offers an integrated account of personal identity, practical reason, morality, political community, and law. The Collected Essays of John Finnis brings together 106 papers, including nearly two dozen previously unpublished works.

Finnis, John, Natural Law and Natural Rights 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199599141 First published in 1980, Natural Law and Natural Rights is widely heralded as a seminal contribution to the philosophy of law, and an authoritative restatement of natural law doctrine. It has offered generations of students and other readers a thorough grounding in the central issues of legal, moral, and political philosophy from Finnis's distinctive perspective. This new edition includes a substantial postscript by the author, in which he responds to thirty years of discussion, criticism and further work in the field to develop and refine the original theory.

Gerhart, Peter M., Tort Law and Social Morality, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521768962 This book develops a theory of tort law that integrates deontic and consequential approaches by applying justificational analysis to identify the factors, circumstances, and values that shape tort law. Drawing on Kantian and Rawlsian philosophy, and on the insights of game theorist Ken Binmore, this book refocuses tort law on a single theory of responsibility that explains and justifies the broad range of tort doctrine and concepts. Under this theory, tort law asks people to appropriately incorporate the well-being of others into the decisions they make, explains when that duty applies, and explains the scope and limits of that duty.

Gould, Tony; (Rubenstein, Michael; Frost, Yvonne), Unfair Dismissal: A Guide to the Relevant Case Law 29th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, A4, £146.00, ISBN: 9781405763516

The 29th edition of this annually updated guide gathers together all the key points from the most important unfair dismissal cases reported in Industrial Relations Law Reports, providing a valuable reference tool. It extracts those principles that are still relevant today from cases reported since 1972. The Guide takes the Grant, Nicholas Marquez; Fibiger, Linda, The Routledge Handbook of Archaeological Human Remains and Legislation, Routledge, Hardback, £150.00, ISBN: 9780415588577.

The Routledge Handbook of Archaeological Human Remains and Legislation provides comprehensive information on the excavation of archaeological human remains and the law through 62 individual country contributions from Europe, Asia, Africa, North America, South America and Australasia. The Routledge Handbook of Archaeological Human Remains and Legislation makes a timely, much-needed contribution to the field of physical anthropology and is unique as it combines information on the excavation of human remains and the legislation that guides it, alongside information on the current state of physical anthropology across several continents. It is an indispensable tool for archaeologists involved in the excavation of human remains around the world.

Gusy, Martin F; Hosking, James M; Schwarz, Franz T, A Guide to the ICDR International Arbitration Rules, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £79.95, ISBN: 9780199596843

This commentary on the International Centre for Dispute Resolution (ICDR) Rules is a comprehensive reference work for practitioners and arbitrators considering ICDR arbitration. The authors draw not only on their own experience, but on caselaw gathered from foreign jurisdictions and from the rich vein of caselaw in the US (applying the ICDR Rules and, where appropriate, analogous provisions of various AAA domestic rules). The work's comparative perspective helps to emphasize key issues to consider when drafting an arbitral clause or strategizing over the conduct of an arbitration.

Harding, Paul; Johnson, Christian, Mastering Securities Lending Documentation: A Practical Guide to the Main European and US Master Securities Lending Agreements, Pearson Professional Education, Paperback, £100.00, ISBN: 9780273734970

Securities lending master agreements are vital for covering securities loans between contracting parties. They also offer legal and credit protection and a close-out netting procedure if a party defaults or goes bankrupt. These agreements are widely used by banks, securities houses, pension funds, hedge funds and insurance companies. Mastering Securities Lending Documentation is a practical guide to understanding the negotiation of these master agreements used in the United Kingdom, United States and Europe. It is an essential handbook for anyone involved in negotiating these agreements and includes:-

Herring, Jonathan, Palgrave Law Masters: Criminal Law 7th ed, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £21.99, ISBN: 9780230285729

The seventh edition of Criminal Law provides a comprehensive introduction to the basic principles of criminal liability and to the main criminal offences, together with insights into the controversies and debates that surround the subject. The text is written in a clear and engaging style, making the fundamental concepts easy to grasp. This is an ideal companion for both law undergraduate and GDL/CPE students. This new edition has been thoroughly updated to reflect recent case law and statutory developments. The enhanced layout includes Hot Topic sections analysing the controversial cases of recent years, plus end of chapter summaries and suggestions for further reading.

Herring, Jonathan, Family Law 5th ed, Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback, £34.99, ISBN: 9781408255520

The best-selling textbook in this area, Family Law provides an exceptional grounding in this fascinating, and often controversial, subject. Family Law forms part of the successful Longman Law series, trusted by generations of students to spark their intellectual curiosity, it provide today's law students with the best possible basis for legal study through clear, academically rich and scholarly exposition of legal doctrine.

Hober, Kaj, International Commercial Arbitration in Sweden, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199218523

International Commercial Arbitration in Sweden offers comprehensive coverage and analysis of the principles, rules and legal aspects of international commercial arbitration in Sweden. Written by a renowned author with more than 20 years experience, practicing both as counsel and arbitrator, this book utilizes personal and professional experience to provide the non-Swedish reader with an in-depth knowledge of Swedish arbitration laws as they are applied internationally. Special attention is paid to issues relating to the conflict of laws and further aspects of private and public international law.

Horan, Shelley, Corporate Crime, Bloomsbury Professional, Hardback, £150.00, ISBN: 9781847665522

This brand new title provides a full treatise on corporate offences, in Ireland, which attract criminal prosecutions and give rise to sanctions such as custodial sentences and fines. Law targeting white-collar crime has become extremely important in Ireland over the past two years, particularly in light of a number of high-profile banking and

Kramer, Adam, Bewigged and Bewildered?: A Guide to Becoming a Barrister in England and Wales 2nd ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £15.00, ISBN:

Misunderstandings and jargon prevent many from seriously considering a career as a barrister in the belief that such a career is not for them or that they are not for it. Others know that they might want to become barristers but not how to go about it, or just want to know more about this somewhat mysterious profession. This book clearly but informally explains the traditions, terminology and institutions of the Bar, and what it is actually like to be a barrister.

Lawson, Richard, Exclusion Clauses and Unfair Contract Terms 10th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £195.00, ISBN: 9780414045767

Exclusion Clauses and Unfair Contract Terms contains straightforward and practical guidance for practitioners in a crucial area of contract law. The author considers how the courts have interpreted exclusion clauses, and how Parliament have enacted a separate set of controls, showing practitioners how to draft exclusion clauses that are lawful, valid and effective. Both commercial and consumer style contracts are covered, and the void and ineffective exclusion clauses are examined. Each chapter concludes with a list of bullet points to summarise key points made.

Llewellyn, Karl N., The Theory of Rules, The University of Chicago Press, Hardback, £21.00, ISBN: 9780226487953

Karl N. Llewellyn was one of the founders and major figures of legal realism, and his many keen insights have a central place in American law and legal understanding. This book frames the development of Llewellyn's thinking and describes the difference between what rules literally prescribe and what is actually done, with the gap explained by a complex array of practices, conventions, professional skills, and idiosyncrasies, most of which are devoted to achieving a law's larger purpose rather than merely following the letter of a particular rule. Edited, annotated, and with an extensive analytic introduction by leading contemporary legal scholar Frederick Schauer, this rediscovered work contains material not found elsewhere in Llewellyn's writings and will prove a valuable contribution to the existing literature on legal realism.

MacIntyre, Ewan, Essentials of Business Law 3rd ed, Pearson Higher Education, Paperback, £31.99, ISBN: 9781408254097 Essentials of Business Law is well regarded for its clear yet succinct exposition of legal principles and key cases across the essential legal topics relevant to business students.

Macdonald, Alistair, The Rights of the Child: Law and Practice, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846612107

to deal comprehensively with this subject matter in the context of practice within the domestic jurisdiction. It enumerates and discusses the law and practice of children's rights, with a view to facilitating the greater articulation and consistent application of these rights in day-to-day legal practice. The book contains chapters dealing with each of the key rights and their application within the domestic courts, as guaranteed by European and International instruments such as the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child.

Macken, Claire, Counter-terrorism and the Detention of Suspected Terrorists: Preventative Confinement and International Human Rights Law, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780415550512

In a regional, national and global response to terrorism, the emphasis necessarily lies on preventing the next terrorist act. Yet, with prevention comes prediction: the need to identify and detain those considered likely to engage in a terrorist act in the future. This book analyses preventative confinement in three models of counter-terrorism policy within the context of international human rights law: an 'intelligence' model of counter-terrorism which advocates preventative detention orders; a 'war' model which allows for even stricter executive detention orders; and a 'criminal justice' model, where pre-charge detention will often be the measure for confinement of suspected terrorists.

of art, and representatives of international institutions involved with prevention and detection of cultural property-related crimes, such as Interpol and UNESCO. This innovative volume also includes an Appendix of the existing legal texts, i.e. international treaties, conventions, and resolutions, which have not previously been available in a single volume. This work is a unique and useful reference for scholars and private and public bodies alike.

Mansfield, Gavin; Bowers, John; Brown, Damian; Forshaw, Simon; Korn, Anthony; Palca, Julia; Schwarz, Jonathan; Napier, Brian, Blackstone's Employment Law Practice 2011, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199589210 The essential work for employment practice is back with a brand new edition. Blackstone's Employment Law Practice 2011 is the indispensable resource for employment practitioners, providing all you need to advise clients confidently and to appear in tribunal. It draws together key legislation, procedural rules, Codes of Practice, and Practice Directions, as well as in-depth analysis of law and procedure in one convenient portable volume.

McLeod, Ian, Palgrave Law Masters: Legal Method 8th ed, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £21.99, ISBN: 9780230285682 This popular and long established text provides a lively introduction to both the nature of the English legal system and its sources, and the techniques which lawyers use when handling those sources. This new eighth edition has been fully updated throughout, and now features two-colour text and a revised jacket design.

Mendes, Joana, Participation in European Union Rule Making: A Rights Based Approach, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780199599769 Combining a conceptual analysis with thorough empirical scrutiny, this book assesses the scope of participation rights in EU law against their rationales and underlying legal values. It makes a case for the extension of participation rights to new situations and new types of procedures, in particular those that would generally fall within the category of rulemaking. It brings distinct normative insights into a crucial theme of EU administrative law, and makes a topical and timely contribution to the increasingly notable theme of public participation in EU regulation.

Merrills, J. G., International Dispute Settlement 5th ed, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521199094

A guide to the techniques and institutions used to solve international disputes, how they work and when they are used. This textbook looks at diplomatic (negotiation, mediation, inquiry and conciliation) and legal methods (arbitration, judicial settlement). It uses many, often topical, examples of each method in practice to place the theory of how things should work in the context of real-life situations and to help the reader understand the strengths and weaknesses of different methods when they are used. It also looks at organisations such as the International Court and the United Nations and has been fully updated to include the most recent arbitrations, developments in the WTO and the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea, as well as case law from the International Court of Justice.

Milne, Alexander, Arlidge and Parry on Fraud 3rd ed: 1st supplement, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £49.00, ISBN: 9780421921702

Arlidge and Parry on Fraud is the complete guide to the law on fraud, setting out the basic principles and clarifying the key terms and showing the effect of new fraud laws. The authors examine the latest legislative developments and include relevant case law. This supplement will bring the 3rd edition up to date.

Morrow, Kay, Preparing Company Accounts 2011-2012, CCH Editions, Paperback, A4, £78.00, ISBN: 9781847983725 Preparing Company Accounts has become, over nineteen editions, one of the most respected professional annual guides to preparing company accounts for the smaller company. Authoritative, reliable and always up to date, the book has achieved its success by simplifying statutory requirements, concentrating on essentials and stripping away unnecessary complexities.

Munday, Roderick, Core Text Series: Evidence 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £28.99, ISBN: 9780199600502 The Core Text Series takes the reader straight to the heart of the subject, providing a reliable and invaluable guide for students of law at all levels. Written by leading academics and renowned for their clarity, these concise texts explain the intellectual challenges of each area of the law. Munday's Evidence provides students with a succinct yet thought-provoking, introduction to all of the key areas covered on undergraduate law of evidence courses. Vibrant and engaging, this book sets out to demystify a traditionally intimidating area of law.

Niels, Gunnar; Jenkins, Helen; Kavanagh, James, Economics for Competition Lawyers, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780199588510

An accessible practitioner textbook, written in the tone of an economic expert's report to a high court judge, the book is aimed specifically at competition lawyers, be they solicitors, barristers, in-house counsel, lawyers at government agencies, judges, or students. This book explains from first principles the economics that underpin market definition, market power/dominance, mergers, and anti-competitive practices, and shows how this knowledge can be applied in competition cases. For example, it goes beyond the standard explanation of the SSNIP test to cover issues such as when and how to define separate markets because of price discrimination.

Olivares-Caminal, Rodrigo; Douglas, John; Guynn, Randall; Kornberg, Alan; et al, Debt Restructuring, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £155.00, ISBN: 9780199579693

Debt Restructuring provides a legal analysis of international corporate, banking and sovereign debt restructuring from both the creditors' and debtors' perspective. It provides a practical guide for creditors holding distressed debt, debtor options in a distressed scenario and the necessary steps for the parties to achieve their goals. Focusing primarily on English and US law, there is coverage of regulation at EU level and the UNCITRAL model law on cross-border insolvencies. Regulatory, policy and practice changes developed as a result of the credit crisis are incorporated to provide a current account of practice in this field.

Pace, Lorenzo Federico, European Competition Law: the Impact of the Commission's Guidance on Article 82, Edward Elgar Publishing Limited, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781848447738

This timely book, with contributions from prominent experts including Luis Ortiz Blanco, Valentine Korah, Ernst-Joachim Mestmacker, Lorenzo F. Pace and Richard Whish, examines the novel aspects of the 2009 Guidance on Article 102. They present a critical assessment of the Guidance that could be relevant to the result of the ongoing Commission's investigations, for example, the opened proce-

Moreover, the contributing authors identify the differences between the Guidance and the prohibition of exclusionary abuses in some member states (including France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy and Spain) and reveal the ways in which the relevant national laws treat exclusionary abuses, and assess how they differ from the approach of the Guidance.

Parkinson, Lisa, Family Mediation: Appropriate Dispute Resolution in a New Family Justice System 2nd ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846612749 Mediation provides an alternative to litigation in the courts to resolve family disputes and/or make arrangements about children, finances and other personal matters after separation or divorce. Family Mediation 2nd ed is an authoritative and practical guide which clearly explains the mediation process, taking the reader through each stage, explaining how to interact with other professionals and providing invaluable advice on the role of the mediator in particular situations.

Partington, Martin, Introduction to the English Legal System 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £23.99, ISBN: 9780199601806

Introduction to the English Legal System is an excellent starting point for all those coming fresh to the study of law. Written in a highly engaging and approachable style, it introduces readers to the purposes and functions of law and the law-making process; it also explains what is happening to the English legal system, why it is happening, and considers what the future may bring.

Paul, Colin; Montagu, Gerald, Banking and Capital Markets Companion 5th ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £52.00, ISBN: 9781847663085 This new, fully updated edition provides an overview of the area of banking and capital markets, primarily for trainees who wish to specialise in this field. Its succinct approach and practical style makes it an ideal student text but will also appeal to practitioners who need a reference guide and non-lawyers who require background information. The new edition has been substantially updated to take into account the rewriting of Corporation Tax Legislation, along with developments in other areas including project finance and securitisation.

RICS, RICS Valuation Standards: Global and UK May 2011 (The Red Book) 7th ed, RICS Books, Spiral Bound, £175.00, ISBN: 9781842196519
Launching April 2011 and effective from 2 May 2011, the 7th Edition of the RICS Valuation Standards replaces all previous issues of the Red Book, and incorporates several vital changes. Its standards are completely compliant with IVS (International Valuation Standards, published by the International Valuation Standards Council) and support VRS (Valuer Registration Scheme). It has more easily accessed sections, a new concentration on the bases for valuation and a greater consolidation of official material. So the Red Book is the definitive source of valuation best practice.

Robinson, Michael, A Contractor's Guide to the FIDIC Conditions of Contract, Wiley-Blackwell, Hardcover, £55.00, ISBN: 9780470657645

This guide will help the contractor's staff overcome some of the difficulties encountered on a typical international contract using FIDIC forms. The majority of FIDIC-based contracts use the Red Book (Conditions of Contract for Construction), so this book concentrates on the use of those particular forms. Supplementary comments are included in Appendix C for the Yellow Book (Plant & Design-Build) recommended for use where the contractor has a design responsibility. Armed on site with a copy of A Contractor's Guide to the FIDIC Conditions of Contract, the Contractor's Representative will be more able to avoid contractual problems rather than spend considerable time and energy resolving those problems once they have arisen.

Roe, Thomas; Haggold, Matthew, Settlement of Investor-State Disputes under the Energy Charter Treaty, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521899383

The Energy Charter Treaty has come of age, with almost 50 States parties and a small but growing body of arbitral case law. In this new study of the Treaty's investment protection provisions, Thomas Roe and Matthew Haggold set out to identify and explain the Treaty's principal provisions and to suggest answers to some of the difficult problems thrown up by

Sappideen, Carolyn ; Vines, Prue; Fleming, Fleming's The Law of Torts 10th ed, Thomson Reuters Australia, Paperback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780455217987; Hardback, £193.00, ISBN: 9780455218274

Rediscovering a masterpiece is a pleasure awaiting readers of this newly updated edition of Fleming's The Law of Torts, last published in 1998. Used by generations of Judges, Lawyers and Academics, this new edition involved an outstanding author team of distinguished torts scholars. The key strength of Fleming's The Law of Torts, 10th ed is its examination, and elucidation, of legal principle. This text is known for its distillation of the essence of tort legal principles and its critical evaluation of them.

Seddon, Duran; JCWI, JCWI Guide to the Points Based System, Joint Council for the Welfare of Immigrants, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781874010074 The Points-Based System has been described by the Government as the “biggest shake-up of the immigration system for 45 years”. The PBS has transformed the operation of the immigration system in relation to entitlement to enter and remain in the UK, practice and procedure in making applications and methods of challenge. This book aims to guide migrants, those advising them and their sponsors in all the legal and practical aspects of using the new system.

Slapper, Gary; Kelly, David, The English Legal System 2011 - 2012 12th ed, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780415600071 Slapper and Kelly's The English Legal System explains and critically assesses how our law is made and applied. Annually updated, this authoritative textbook clearly describes the legal rules of England and Wales and their collective influence as a socio-cultural institution. This latest edition of The English Legal System responds to the proposals of the newly elected coalition government as they affect the legal system as well as the most recent legislation and case law. The Constitutional Reform and Governance Act 2010, the Crime and Security Act 2010, new European law and the latest decisions of the Supreme Court are all incorporated into the text, and this edition also digests recent research on the work of juries and the criminal courts, and the 2010 changes to the regulation of, and Government contributions towards, legal services.

Stamatoudi, Iriani A., Cultural Property Law and Restitution: A Commentary to International Conventions and European Union Law, Edward Elgar Publishing Limited, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781848446618 This invaluable book, for the first time, brings together the international and European Union legal framework on cultural property law and the restitution of cultural property. Drawing on the author's extensive experience of international disputes, it provides a very comprehensive and useful commentary. Theories of cultural nationalism and cultural internationalism and their founding principles are explored. Iriani Stamatoudi also draws on soft law sources, ethics, morality, public feeling and the role of international organisations to create a complete picture of the principles and trends emerging today.

Stone, Richard, The Modern Law of Contract 9th ed, Routledge, Paperback, £26.99, ISBN: 9780415598453

The Modern Law of Contract is a clear and logical introduction to contract law, written by a leading author and lecturer with over thirty years of teaching and examining experience in the subject. Meticulously updated to include all of the recent developments and case decisions in the field, The Modern Law of Contract offers a contemporary overview of each of the key topics found on an undergraduate or GDL contract law module, making it the ideal introduction for students encountering the subject for the first time.

Stone, Richard; Devenney, James; Cunningham, Ralph, Text, Cases & Materials on Contract law 2nd ed, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £34.99, ISBN: 9780415594141

This clear and highly accessible volume, presented in a coherent structure, provides full coverage of the topics commonly found in the contract law syllabus, alongside up-to-date illustrative case examples and stimulating commentary. Written by leading authors in the field, this book takes account of a variety of theoretical perspectives, including economic, relational and empirical conceptions of the law. A meticulous and insightful commentary is provided throughout, illuminating complex areas of law and promoting more detailed analysis of important issues.

Tehrani, John, Infringement Nation: Copyright 2.0 and You, Oxford University Press USA, Hardback, £30.00, ISBN: 9780199733170

Written on the occasion of copyright's 300th anniversary, John Tehranian's Infringement Nation presents an engaging and accessible analysis of the history and evolution of copyright law and its profound impact on the lives of ordinary individuals in the twenty-first century. Organized around the trope of the individual in five different copyright-related contexts - as an infringer, transformer, pure user, creator and reformer - the book charts the changing contours of our copyright regime and assesses its vitality in the digital age.

The Law Society, Conveyancing Protocol, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £34.95, ISBN: 9781907698057

The Conveyancing Protocol is the Law Society's new 'preferred practice' for conveyancing transactions of freehold and leasehold residential property. This book contains the text of the Protocol and all the forms, guidance and formulae required by solicitors who adopt the Protocol, including newly revised editions of the Standard Conditions of Sale, 5th Edition and the Law Society's Code for Completion by Post. Compliance with the Protocol is mandatory for any firms accredited under the Law Society's Conveyancing Quality Scheme.

Thompson, Robert, Sinclair on Warranties and Indemnities on Share and Asset Sales 8th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback & CD-ROM, £215.00, ISBN: 9780414043169

Sinclair on Warranties and Indemnities on Share and Asset Sales covers the history and function of warranties and indemnities, highlighting the main principles, and provides expert commentary on tax, property and general warranties and indemnities for both asset and share sales to help practitioner's reach a successful outcome for their client. The new edition covers changes to warranties from both a purchaser and vendor perspective, contains clearly written commentary and guidance which explains the drafting, clauses and impact of warranties and indemnities. The authors go through the drafting process starting with the rights and liabilities to completion accounts and valuation, offering a broad understanding of key transactions.

Webb, Charlie; Akkouch, Tim, Palgrave Law Masters: Trusts Law 2nd ed, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £21.99, ISBN: 9780230275997

This second edition of Trusts Law has been thoroughly updated to reflect recent developments in the subject. The authors bring a unique combination of academic knowledge and hands-on commercial experience to the explanation of their subject. For this edition, these practical insights have been further bolstered by the inclusion of a new chapter showing the steps involved in the creation of a trust, illustrated by examples of actual documentation. This is an ideal companion to the subject for both law undergraduate and GDL/CPE students.

Wise, Ian; Broach, Steve; Gallagher, Caoilfhionn; et al, Children in Need: Local Authority Support for Children and Families, Legal Action Group, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781903307854 Children in Need is the first comprehensive and accessible handbook to set out the law on local authority support for vulnerable children and families, with particular focus on Part 3 of the Children Act 1989. It sets out the current law with specific analysis of the public law duties which require local authorities and their partners to act to safeguard and promote the welfare of children in need in the context of their families, and looks at emerging areas of law.

Yamane, Hiroko, Interpreting TRIPS: Globalisation of Intellectual Property Rights and Access to Medicines, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9781841139531

This book examines various views of the role of IPRs as incentives for innovation against the backdrop of development and the transfer of technology between globalised, knowledge-based, high technology economies. The book retraces the origins, content and interpretations of the TRIPS Agreement, including by WTO dispute settlement organs. It also analyses sources of controversy over IPRs, examining pharmaceutical industry strategies of emerging countries with different IPR policies. The book also draws attention to the fact that TRIPS is only an agreement about principles; both the TRIPS rules and international customary rules of interpretation are flexible and a great deal depends on domestic policy objectives and their implementation. The author concludes that for governments in developing countries, as well as for their business and scientific communities, IPR protection should be supporting domestic policies for innovation and investment.

Transcripts of Judicial Proceedings in England and Wales: a Guide to Sources

A revised edition of the Inner Temple Library's 2006 guide to sources of transcripts is now available as a 165-page PDF document.

The guide is intended primarily for libraries and information services staff who may need to obtain, or assist others to obtain, transcripts of the proceedings of courts and tribunals in England and Wales.

A major feature of this new edition is its greatly expanded coverage of tribunals. It is hoped that users of the guide may find this particularly useful at a time of change and transition in tribunal administration.

The guide will be available at the special price of £12.99 until March 31st, after which it will be priced at £19.99. These prices are for single-use only.

Acting pro bono?

Seek pro bono costs

UNLOCK FUNDS FOR JUSTICE

Pro bono costs are like an ordinary award of costs, but where a party had free legal representation. If your client wins, the losing side need not benefit from your free work; you can seek a pro bono costs order against them. This means that the other side now also has a costs risk to consider.

The County Court, High Court and Court of Appeal Civil Division can award pro bono costs broadly where they would award normal costs. The costs cover any period when free representation was provided, and even if only one of the lawyers acted for free (i.e. normal costs can also be sought for the fee-paid work). The amount is based on what a paying client would recover.

The legislation requires the costs to be paid to the prescribed charity, the Access to Justice Foundation, set up by the Bar Council, Law Society, ILEX and Advice Services Alliance.

Quick guide for court hearings

1. File & serve a statement of costs using court form N260. This shows what free work you did, and what it would have cost a paying client at your normal rates.
2. Ask for a pro bono costs order under s.194 Legal Services Act 2007 and CPR 44.3C. The procedure is the same as obtaining a normal costs order. Wherever possible seek summary assessment. Costs can also be agreed.
3. Suggest this wording for the order:
The [party] must pay costs for pro bono representation to The Access to Justice Foundation (PO Box 64162, London WC1A 9AN), [summarily assessed at £____] [or] [to be assessed on the standard / indemnity basis if not agreed].
4. Tell the Foundation when you secure pro bono costs (costs@ATJF.org.uk).
5. The Foundation then distributes the money to agencies and projects that give free legal help to those in need.

Implementation of the Companies Act 2006 has continued through 2008, and with it the spotlight has fallen on the duties of company directors. This makes it more vital than ever that directors are fully aware of the extent of their responsibilities and the penalties awaiting those who are unprepared. The Company Director is essential reading for all company directors, company secretaries and their advisers. It provides comprehensive coverage, in a single volume, of the powers, legal obligations and responsibilities of executive and non-executive company directors. The complex relationships of directors with fellow directors, the company, its employees and shareholders are fully explained. Now in its 11th edition, this well respected and established work has been thoroughly updated to take account of directors' duties that took effect on 01 October 2008: The duty to avoid conflicts of interest, The duty not to accept benefits from third parties and the obligation to declare an interest in a proposed transaction or arrangement

Gibraltar: International Financial Centre 5th edition

by Caplan Montague and Hassans
Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, ISBN 9781847667229, due May 2011, £85.00

Gibraltar is now a major player in the Offshore Finance Centre market and offers overseas investors, both corporate and personal, a beneficial tax regime that can be used to undertake business transactions with maximum tax efficiency. Gibraltar: International Financial Centre is a comprehensive guide to the commercial and tax issues of living and doing business in Gibraltar. The new edition covers the legislation which will impinge on any company wishing to do business in or with Gibraltar or any individual wishing to take advantage of the friendly tax climate in Gibraltar and settle there. The book explains the Income Tax legislation introduced recently in Gibraltar and its effect on companies and individuals together with all other taxes chargeable and those taxes which are not imposed. The general operating environment for companies is explained by an analysis of the Companies Act and Money Laundering legislation. The regulatory and licensing arrangements in Gibraltar are also fully explored. There are also specific chapters on the environment for Trusts, Insurance Companies, Financial Institutions and Gaming Companies. The position and advantages of Funds, Protected Cell Companies and Limited Partnerships in Gibraltar are also examined.

Service Charges in Commercial Property 2nd edition

by RICS Code of Practice
RICS Books, Paperback, ISBN 9781842196687, due May 2011, £40.00

The new Code has been produced as part of a cross industry initiative in the light of ongoing concerns about disputes over service charges and their alleged lack of transparency. Its stated aims are to improve general standards and promote best practice, uniformity, fairness and transparency in the management and administration of services charges in commercial property, to ensure timely issue of budgets and year end certificates, to reduce the causes of disputes and to give guidance to resolving disputes where these do occur and to provide guidance to solicitors, their clients (be they owners or occupiers) and managers of service charges in the negotiation, drafting, interpretation and operation of leases in accordance with best practice. This Code recognises the lease as paramount and advises owners, occupiers and professional advisors to interpret leases as far as possible in line with the code, and to modernise leases when opportunities arise, such as during new lettings or renewals.

Laddie, Prescott & Vitoria: Modern Law of Copyright and Designs 4th edition

by Peter Prescott, Mary Vitoria, Adrian Speck and others
LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, ISBN 9781405717984, due June 2011, £599.00
Now in its fourth edition, Laddie, Prescott & Vitoria on The Modern Law of Copyright and Designs takes account of important changes from EC directives since the third edition and reflects current industry practice. Fully updated in three volumes, the book considers the main aspects of copyright and performers' rights, which are now closely related. It examines literary, dramatic and musical works regarded as original works, sound recordings, broadcasting, infringements and ownership of copyright and performers' rights, licences and registered and unregistered designs. This is the unrivalled authority on all issues that are important to those practising in the field of copyright, especially solicitors, barristers, patent agents, IP academics, the judiciary, in-house lawyers, publishers and collecting societies. Fully comprehensive and accessible, with worked examples and in-depth discussions, it contains all the historical and contextual material needed to ensure the practitioner is expertly briefed in this complex and fast-moving area of law.

Blackstone's Guide to the Freedom of Information Act 2000 4th edition

by John Wadham, Kelly Harris and George Peretz
Oxford University Press, Paperback, ISBN 9780199692217, due May 2011, £44.95
The Blackstone's Guide Series delivers concise and accessible books covering the latest legislative changes and amendments. Published soon after enactment, they offer expert commentary by leading names on the scope, extent and effects of the legislation, plus a full copy of the Act itself. They offer a cost-effective solution to key information needs and are the perfect companion for any practitioner needing to get up to speed with the latest changes. The Freedom of Information Act 2000 came into force on 1 January 2005, creating a new statutory 'right to open government'. It has imposed new duties on public authorities regarding the disclosure and handling of information. The new edition of this popular Blackstone's Guide provides a comprehensive overview of the Act, combined with comment and analysis on the effect of the legislation. It incorporates and discusses the case law and decisions emerging from the Information Commissioner, Information Tribunal/First-tier Tribunal, and the High Court, including Her Majesty's Treasury v ICO, British Union for the Abolition of Anti Vivisection v Home Office and ICO, and Home Office and MOJ v ICO, as well as relevant decisions of the Scottish Information Commissioner. It also includes analysis of the replacement of the Information Tribunal by the First-tier Tribunal (General Regulatory Chamber) and the Upper Tribunal. Up-to-date with all changes since the publication of the previous edition, and containing a fully updated copy of the Act, this Blackstone's Guide is an essential purchase for all those involved in receiving requests for access under the Act.

Labour Law: A Practical Global Guide

by Agustin Jausas
Global Law and Business, Hardback, ISBN 9781905783441, due May 2011, £105.00

The legal and financial treatment of labour regulation can vary significantly from country to county. An understanding of these differences is of the utmost importance when evaluating the labour implications for any company establishing itself in a new jurisdiction. This new title is the perfect companion to the Globe Law and Business book on company formation (Company Formation: A Practical Global Guide, Second edition). Featuring over 35 chapters by practising professionals, the book provides a succinct overview of the labour regulations in force in a number of key jurisdictions. This is particularly important in this field because of the singularities in the regulation of labour relations that exist in different countries. Topics covered in each chapter include the labour contract, non-compete covenants, changes in working conditions, board representation, termination by both employer and employee, leave and social security, among others. This book is an essential tool for any lawyer advising clients that are planning to set up in a new jurisdiction.

Written Advocacy

by Andrew Goodman
Nova Law and Finance, Hardback, ISBN 9781908013071, due July 2011, £48.00

The requirement to produce skeleton arguments has been with us for 10 years, but written advocacy remains in its infancy. Court of Appeal judges admit that cases are decided before oral argument on the strength of written advocacy. This second edition develops the first edition by building on what practitioners found useful and including recent examples. Throughout the civil justice system under the Civil Procedure Rules the skill is vital – cases are won or lost on the advocate's skill writing, not addressing the court orally. This book provides practical advice in drafting, model form pre-action protocol letters of claim, inter partes correspondence, Part 36 Offers, skeleton arguments, written opening notes for trial, closing submissions and costs submissions. Leading practitioners have offered their assistance in producing a book of real authority. Invaluable for professional students and practitioners alike. The author is a practicing barrister and teacher of advocacy, mediation and other key legal skills. Designed for all those interested in good practice in legal English, this volume is ideal for individuals looking for a ready reference and for those training trainees and pupils. Previously known as: Influencing the Judicial Mind: Effective Written Advocacy in Practice.

Children Act 1989: Local Authority Duties to Older Children and Teenagers

by Sally Gore

Jordan Publishing, Paperback, ISBN

9781846612480, due May

2011, £60.00

The Children Act 1989, Pt III ('Local Authority Support for Children and Families') has considerable relevance both as an area of law in its own right but also, increasingly, to practitioners in the field of child law. The recent threats to public funding in the more traditional areas of family work have led many practitioners to seek to broaden their experience in different areas. Judicial review in the field of child law is one area that has seen an increase in interest for child specialists. In addition, an understanding of the duties imposed on local authorities to provide services to children and families is becoming increasingly important to those representing local authorities, children and parents in public law proceedings, where the need for these services is often seen to arise. This new book dedicated to a complex area of law will act as a useful companion, both for those making decisions on behalf of local authorities and their advisers, and also for child law practitioners more generally.

Carriage of Goods by Sea 2nd edition

by Stephen D Girvin

Oxford University

Press, Hardback, ISBN

9780199589913, due July

2011, £175.00

Arranged thematically and covering the entire breadth of the law of carriage of goods by sea, including bills of lading and charterparties, limitation, admiralty claims, and maritime arbitration, this book discusses the underlying principles of contract, agency, tort, and bailment as well as the business of carriage, and shippers' and carriers' obligations, rights and immunities. This second and much expanded edition includes a new chapter on the important subject of damages. The contents also benefit from unique coverage of cargo claims including limitation periods, damages, and arbitration. The scope and application of the Rotterdam Rules is covered in a dedicated chapter, which guides the reader on this important international instrument which was signed in 2009, but is not yet in force. Coverage of the main provisions and changes to be implemented in accordance with the Rotterdam Rules also feature throughout. The underlying principles to documents of carriage, international regulation, and the responsibilities and obligations of the skipper and carrier are all addressed in this single volume resource.

Sir Fred Albert Phillips

Sir Fred Phillips, an old friend and author of our book The Modern Judiciary, passed away peacefully at his Hodges Bay home, Antigua, on 20 February.

I first met Sir Fred in the early 1980's in New York when he was writing a book on West Indian Constitutions. Subsequently I met him several times there and in Barbados. He was always charming and courteous. When I had lunch with him in London just before his illness he was as insightful and entertaining in his comments as he had been thirty years previously. He always retained a dignified humility which belied his many illustrious achievements.

Sir Fred Phillips is perhaps best known because he was the first West Indian to be appointed Administrator and then Governor of what was then known as St Kitts-Nevis-Anguilla from 1967-1969. Sir Fred later worked as a legal advisor to Cable and Wireless; he served as Cabinet Secretary of the West Indies Federation and Senior Assistant Registrar at the University of the West Indies and chaired the Grenada Telecommunications Limited, Telecoms of Dominica, and USAID Agricultural Venture. He also served as a former director of St Kitts and Nevis Telecommunications Limited, the Barbados Telephone Company and the Barbados External Telecommunications.

Sir Fred was born in St. Vincent and was a proud member of Middle Temple and a Queen's Counsel. He was 92 when he died.

CLUB LAW MANUAL

Second edition

Kerry Barker and Henry Stevens

Price:	£35.00
ISBN:	9780854900626
Extent:	267 pp
Size:	216 x 138mm
Binding:	Paperback

Members' clubs have for many years enjoyed a special status at law, in particular in relation to the supply and sale of alcohol. The new legislation introduced by the Licensing Act 2003 in itself justified a book for those involved in the running of, licensing, policing or advising, members' clubs and Ken Pain, the original author, took the opportunity to deal with many other topics of importance to clubs, their officers and members. Club Law Manual was intended to provide a practical but authoritative guide to the relevant law to lawyers and non-lawyers alike and, to police officers and local authorities and their staff.

This second edition not only brings this much used book up-to-date but enhances the original text by introducing chapters on gambling and fund-raising, hearings and appeals. Chapters on liabilities, employment, health and safety and food safety have been re-written to include issues raised by readers.

The sections on entertainment, supply and sale of alcohol and internal regulation have been expanded to incorporate amendments to the Licensing Act 2003, changes to the law on sexual entertainment and the Equality Act 2010. In addition, a template for club rules is included within the appendices.

The new authors are practising barristers and specialists in their fields.

FOUNDATIONS OF COMPARATIVE LAW
Methods and Typologies

Edited by William E. Butler, Oleksiy V. Kresin and Iuriy S. Shemshuchenko

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854900923
Extent: 360pp
Size: 229mm x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

The first book in decades to explore the historical, jurisprudential, and methodological foundations of modern comparative legal studies in the former Soviet Union, it is without precedent there in its breadth of authorship and methodological originality. For the western reader it constitutes a thoroughly representative introduction to the New Wave of comparative legal studies on the territory of the Independent States. Some issues that engage comparatists there are long familiar in the West; others are relatively new to the field in general, usually with an unusual twist generated by Eastern experience or philosophical disposition.

Individual chapters address the periodization of comparative law, the place of Russia and Ukraine on the legal map of the world, the renaissance of Slavonic law, canon law, convergence between Anglo-American and Romano-Germanic legal systems, the integrating role of international law, and various approaches to typologies of modern legal systems.

William E. Butler is a Foreign Member of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine and an Associate of the International Academy of Comparative Law.

O. V. Kresin is the Secretary of the Ukrainian Association of Comparative Law and an Associate of the International Academy of Comparative Law.

Iu. S. Shemshuchenko is Academician of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine; Director of the Koretskii Institute of State and Law of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine; and an Associate of the International Academy of Comparative Law.

DRINK-DRIVE OFFENCES: A Handbook for Practitioners

P. M. Callow

Price:	£45
ISBN:	9780854900756
Extent:	358pp
Size:	152mm x 229mm
Binding:	Paperback

The statutory provisions on drink-driving are set out in just fifteen sections of the Road Traffic Act 1988, and two from the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988, but there have been over 700 appeals to the Divisional Court on points of law since the Acts came into force. The result is a body of law which is technical and complex, covering a wide array of matters.

The Drink-Drive Offences provides a practical, comprehensive, accessible and up-to-date account of this broad and intriguing area of law. It traces the procedure from preliminary testing to penalties, taking the legislative provisions in sequence and explaining the effects of the case law. The routines for preliminary testing, and for requiring and analysing specimens of breath, blood or urine, are examined. This includes the recurring question of the reliability of the breath analysis instrument and the circumstances in which a blood or urine specimen may be required instead of a breath specimen. The constituents of the offences are explained, in chapters on the excess alcohol offences, the offences of being in charge, the offences of being unfit to drive, and causing death by careless driving when under the influence of drink or drugs. The statutory assumption that the level of alcohol at the time of the offence was no less than in the specimen receives special attention, along with the “hip flask” defence, where the motorist asserts that it was alcohol consumed after driving which accounts for being over the limit. A chapter is devoted to the offences of failing to co-operate with preliminary tests and failing to provide specimens, with full consideration of what constitutes a “reasonable excuse” for these purposes. Finally, the penalties are set out, including special reasons for not disqualifying.

P. M. Callow LL.M is the author of Drink-Drive Case Notes (2nd edition, 2007) and co-author of Blackstone's Handbook for Magistrates (2nd edition, 2000).

NEIGHBOUR DISPUTES
A Guide to the Law and Practice

Donald Agnew and Amanda Morris

Price:	£39
Edition:	2nd edition
ISBN:	9780854900596
Extent:	290pp.
Size:	229 x 152 mm
Binding:	Paperback

This book is a practical guide for those seeking to resolve disputes between neighbours who are at war with each other – whether it be about noise, overhanging branches, the position of a fence, or some other irritation that has sparked neighbour rage. It draws together the relevant strands of the law – on negligence, nuisance, misrepresentation, trespass, rights of way, boundaries, party walls, the right to light, trees and hedges, weeds and pests, waste water and drainage. Written by solicitors with many years’ experience of dealing with such disputes, it contains practical hints to hasten resolving difficulties, while recognising the desirability of restoring harmony between the disputing parties. It provides an insight into some of the many powers of the local authorities – to deal with noise, for example – which may be invoked to bring to an end the behaviour complained of. The importance of seeking to settle a dispute without having to resort to litigation is a theme running through the book, as is the ever-vexing question of costs.

Formerly a partner, Donald Agnew is now a consultant with Blake Laphorn, and has considerable experience in all types of dispute concerning land. He is a member of the Property Litigation Association.

Amanda Morris is a partner at Blake Laphorn, where she heads up the property litigation team “She has a deservedly good reputation and fine legal brain”- Chambers UK, A Guide to the Legal Profession 2010 – and she is a member of the Property Litigation Association.

THE MODERN JUDICIARY Challenges, Stresses and Strains

Sir Fred Phillips, CVO, QC

Price: £65
ISBN: 9780854900671
Extent: 302pp
Size: 229mm x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

This book examines the vocation of being a judge. It covers training, discipline and removal of judges as well as their position in the broader context as law-makers and servants of society.

The book is both comparative and practical while also examining the theory and jurisprudence of judging. It is full of practical examples drawn from the author's extensive experience and numerous contacts within the judiciary around the world. It examines their relationship to the societies they are representing and answerable to and their position and responsibilities as part of an international judicial brotherhood.

PASSION, POISON & POWER
The Mysterious Death of Sir Thomas Overbury: A Jacobean Mystery in Fourteen Acts

Brian Harris

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900770
Extent: 232 pp
Size: 229 x 152 mm
Binding: Hardback

Little attention was paid at the time to the death in the Tower of London of Sir Thomas Overbury, but it was not long before foul play was suspected. Two years later six people went to the gallows for his murder in a case which was said to involve wizardry, love potions, coded letters and a poisoned enema. Following them into the dock were the most glamorous couple at the court of King James.

The husband, who was widely rumoured to be the King's lover, was convicted of Overbury's murder despite his protestations of innocence; but was he actually guilty? His pretty young wife confessed to the murder; but did she actually commit the crime? And the Lord Chief Justice was convinced that the case had a far wider and more sinister significance than appeared on the surface, possibly involving the suspicious death of the Prince of Wales.

Despite an exhaustive inquiry conducted by England's most feared prosecutor, the whole truth never came to light; even the official report of the trials is suspect. In this entertaining account of one of the most sensational crimes in English history, Brian Harris re-evaluates the evidence and proposes a new solution to this intriguing Jacobean mystery.

Brian Harris QC is a writer and legal consultant. Previous books include Intolerance: Divided Societies on Trial (Wildy, Simmonds and Hill, 2008), Injustice: State Trials from Socrates to Nuremberg (Sutton Publishing, 2006) and The Literature of the Law (Blackstone, 1998).

Brian Harris, a contemporary lawyer of distinction, has deployed his forensic skills in seeking to unravel a celebrated seventeenth century murder mystery; his may not be the last word on a topic which has engaged generations of scholars but his theatrical format and analytical insight carry the reader forward with him on an entertaining journey

COPYRIGHT IN THE DIGITAL AGE: INDUSTRY ISSUES AND IMPACTS

edited by

Trevor Fenwick and Ian Locks

on Behalf of The Worshipful Company of Stationers and Newspaper Makers

Price:	£24.95
ISBN:	9780854900800
Extent:	192 pp.
Size:	234 x 156mm
Binding:	Paperback

The primary purpose of this book is to inform the debate on the future of copyright in the digital age: a professional resource for those seeking information on the importance and value of Copyright to the UK's Creative Industries and to promote understanding of the importance of those industries and their reliance on their ability to 'own' intellectual property through copyright legislation. The book contains articles and submissions by leading industry practitioners, lawyers and academics with practical experience of the importance of Copyright in the UK as well as those at the 'sharp end' as publishers and producers. It reflects the challenges to be faced with the development of the digital usage of copyright material as well as tracking the Stationers' 450 years of involvement in the development of copyright, enshrined in law by the Statute of Anne 300 years ago.

The Stationers' Company is the City of London Livery Company for the visual and graphic communications industries. The Company was founded in 1403 when the manuscript writers and illuminators formed a guild, taking the name 'Stationers' from the fact that they had stopped being itinerant vendors and had set up fixed stalls in St Paul's Churchyard. At the end of the 15th century when printing first came to England, the Stationers had the good sense to embrace the new technology. The guild received a Royal Charter in 1557 in which they were given a monopoly in printing and the responsibility to check and register all books produced in England. Today the Company has over 800 members, the vast majority of whom are senior executives in the complete range of trades within the visual and graphic communications industries, from paper, print, publishing, packaging, office products, newspapers, broadcasting and online media. Membership is drawn from across the UK and increasingly throughout the world and now includes major companies as well as individual members. The Company still uses Stationers' Hall for the purpose for which it was built 350 years ago: to bring together the major players in our associated industries so that they can enjoy each other's company, learn from one another, swap ideas and together develop strategies for the future of an industry that is vital to global economic growth. Activities range from formal dinners, informal lunches, lectures, seminars and intimate round-table sessions to online reports and discussion fora.

THE COURT ART OF PRISCILLA
COLEMAN

Commentary by Paul Cheston

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900398
Extent: 64 pp.
Size: 300 x 242 mm
Binding: Hardback

Priscilla Coleman has been drawing court scenes for over 20 years. The pictures collected here mark many of the most important trials of that period. There is a widespread misunderstanding among those who see pictures on TV or in the newspapers that an artist can sketch as much as they like in court. As lawyers know, far from taking a palate and easel into the public gallery, any attempt at photography, drawings or visual representations is strictly verboten. Artists have to memorise in court the colours, shades, clothing, facial mannerisms and physical idiosyncracies then go out and draw a likeness from memory . . . against the clock.

Priscilla Coleman was born in Chilton, near Waco Texas and went to high school in Chilton and Huntsville before studying fine art and graphics at Sam Houston State University, Texas. Inspired by her mother Henrietta, a talented fashion illustrator and portrait painter, Priscilla is driven by a love of drawing people. She approached ITN with a video tape of her electronic news graphics and court drawings from her time with Channel 13 and KTRK TV in Houston where she was art director for news, and was hired straight away. Her first sketch was of Jeffrey Archer and Monica Coghlan in the notorious High Court libel trial.

Paul Cheston is the courts correspondent of the London Evening Standard. He was born in Aberdare, Mid Glamorgan and educated at Kimbolton School and the University of East Anglia. He covered his first court case for the Diss Express and, after training on the Middlesbrough Evening Gazette, came to Fleet Street to work for the Press Association. He joined the short-lived London Daily News and was in court on the final day of the Jeffrey Archer libel trial when owner Robert Maxwell closed the paper down. After brief work for the Daily Star and Sunday Express he joined the Evening Standard as a general news reporter. He was appointed courts correspondent in 1993 and is co-author of Brothers in Blood published in 1994.

LEGAL RESEARCH: A Practitioner's Handbook

Peter Clinch with contributions by James Mullan

Price:	£39
ISBN:	9780854900640
Extent:	450 pp
Size:	246 x 189mm
Binding:	Hardback

This comprehensive reference is specifically aimed at busy practitioners (solicitors, barristers and professional support lawyers), particularly those who do not have the benefit of access to a law librarian or information officer. Legal Research: A Practitioner's Handbook provides practical advice on every aspect of effective legal research: problem analysis, selecting and finding the best sources, and presenting results effectively.

Part A covers problem identification and analysis, followed by advice on how to select the best sources and formats (paper or electronic) for research. Part B deals with the information most frequently sought by practitioners, listing sources with analytical comments and, for a selection of the most complex, 'how to use' instructions developed to a standard template. Jurisdictional coverage includes England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and the European Union, with the addition of information on key sources in European human rights and international law. Part C details sources on how to make the presentation of the results of legal research more effective.

Peter Clinch is Senior Subject Librarian for Law at Cardiff University and has trained law students, practising solicitors and law librarians in legal research skills. He devised and runs the award-winning Cardiff Index to Legal Abbreviations.

James Mullan is Knowledge Management Systems Manager for Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP. Previously he was an Information Officer at CMS Cameron McKenna LLP. He is a member of the British & Irish Association of Law Librarians (BIALL) council.
