WILDY'S BOOK NEWS

Volume 20 Issue 1 Published Monthly

Jan/Feb 2015

---

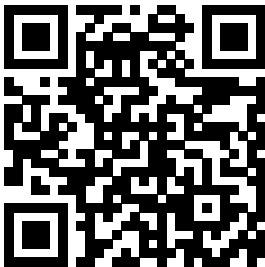

The Hammicks bookshop in Fleet Street is to close on Friday the 13th of February. It is a sad day for law bookselling and their staff. We have always enjoyed our 'friendly rivalry'.

We are altering the scheduling of the Book News slightly as we enter our 20th year. Our new deadline for material is the last working day of the month. This is to allow for the inclusion of books published in the final week of the month. Previously, these would be held over to the next issue. Increasingly, publishers are issuing their major titles and supplements in the final week of the month.

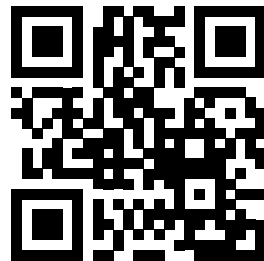

The electronic version of the Book News will continue to appear on our website in advance of the printed version being sent out.

Just published this month Natural Law and Comparative Law (JCL Studies in Comparative Law No. 12), see page 39.

January and February are not the busiest months of the year for legal bookselling so I thought I would take a step away from the actual books and talk about the different formats that law eBooks are produced in.

The most successful format so far is Sweet & Maxwell’s ProView. This is a purpose built App that will work on your PC, Mac or tablet. The beauty with ProView is the way that you can add bookmarks, notes and highlights and these annotations will synch across all of your devices. ProView also has the smoothest navigation of any of the Apps that I have seen. There are now about 150 of Sweet & Maxwell’s major titles available on ProView.

(Proview)

Hard on the heels of ProView is LexisNexis’ Lexis Note. This has a lot of the features of ProView and Lexis are planning on releasing the first batch of looseleafs in 2015. This platform was only launched at the end of 2014 but all major Lexis releases will now be available in both Lexis Note and ePub versions.

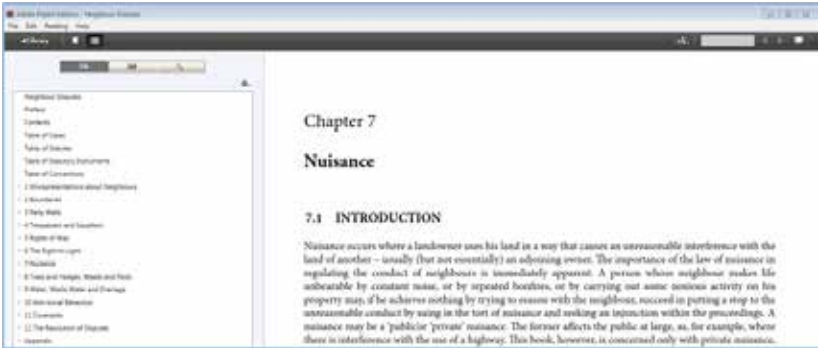

(Lexis Note)

Both Lexis Note and ProView have the added bonus that you will never lose an eBook or an annotation. Everything is stored in the cloud so if you get a new device you can just log in and access all of your books straight away.

ProView and Lexis Note have been purpose built for the professional market but they only represent a very small percent of the total list. Most eBooks will be produced in ePub or PDF format and are protected be Adobe Digital Rights Management (DRM).

DRM is used to protect the eBook from unauthorized copying and sharing. When the eBook is first opened it will effectively lock itself to the Adobe registration of whoever has opened it. This person can then use it on a number of different devices as long as they are all registered with the same Adobe login. If you are reading these titles on a PC or a Mac most people would use Adobe Digital Editions as their reader. This, like ProView and Lexis Note, gives you option to highlight and often, but not always, annotate although it will not synch your notes between devices.

(Adobe Digital Editions)

Our favourite App for reading ePub or PDF files on a tablet is BlueFire. The functionality is great and the navigation is very smooth.

(BlueFire)

What really is missing is a format that allows a library to act as a central hub for their eBooks and for them to be able to lend them to the end-users. I am sure this will happen in time but it still feels like we are in the embryonic stages of legal eBooks in the UK.

As always please feel free to contact me directly if you have any questions about eBook or require further information.

NATURAL LAW AND COMPARATIVE LAW

Russell Wilcox and Anthony Carty (editors)

JCL Studies in Comparative Law No. 12

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854901548
Extent: 414 pp
Binding: Hardback

It has been a major contention of classical natural law theory that the arguments it makes, because rooted in a robust account of human nature, are of universal applicability. A somewhat less well explored dimension is the extent to which it can admit of, and indeed support, the great variations in human cultures, life-ways and patterns of social ordering. Despite this fact, however, there is much to suggest that it is possessed of theoretical resources uniquely well adapted to maintaining a balance between unity and diversity in each of these areas. In consequence, although the disciplines of natural law and comparative law have long tended to be treated as essentially immiscible, there is much to suggest that this may not be the whole story and that an exploration of how they can be brought together holds out the promise of making real theoretical advances in each. It is in this spirit that the present volume collects together essays from a variety of scholars with interests in various aspects of classical natural law theory and comparative legal studies as a way of beginning what the editors hope will become a fruitful and, in time, much wider conversation.

LEASEHOLD ENFRANCHISEMENT LAW AND PRACTICE

Piers Harrison and David Lonsdale

Price: £95.00
ISBN: 9780854900657
Extent: 374 pp
Binding: Hardback

This practical book is written with the busy practitioner in mind, explaining the law in clear and simple terms and concentrating heavily on procedure. The procedural chapters make up the greater part of the book and are designed to ensure that the practitioner drafts notices without mistakes and understands the critical time limits.

Leasehold Enfranchisement contains checklists of mistakes to be avoided in the preparation of notices and clear guidance on procedure post service of the notice. The book enables the reader to find essential information easily.

Fully up to date with the new procedural rules, Leasehold Enfranchisement includes the latest forms published by the First-tier Tribunal. It is accessible and practical, providing guidance on filling in notices, and checklists of common mistakes to be avoided. The authors provide plenty of detail on how to accomplish the main task for a solicitor in this area. The book also tackles valuation in a way that a non-valuer can understand so that the solicitor understands the valuation exercise.

Piers' property practice covers all areas of property law and clients include property development companies, local authorities, government agencies and private companies and individuals. He is an editor of Landlord and Tenant Review. He has a particular interest in enfranchisement but his practice encompasses all areas of the law of real property. He is author of Service Charges & Management (3rd ed) and Megarry's Manual of the Law of Real Property (9th ed).

David Lonsdale has over twenty years' advocacy and advisory experience at all levels up to the Court of Appeal, including specialist tribunals such as the First Tier Tribunal. David's areas of particular specialisation are leasehold enfranchisement, restrictive covenants and forfeiture of commercial leases, but he accepts instructions across the range of Property law disputes as well as appearing and advising on cases in related fields such as professional negligence and insolvency. David is instructed by client companies with an international presence as well as local authorities, managing agents and individuals.

Catarina Sjölin
and Lyndon Harris

Price: £95.00
ISBN: 9780854901227
Extent: 852 pp
Binding: Hardback

The law and procedure relating to sexual offences is notoriously complex. Since the advent of the Sexual Offences Act 2003, the law (both as to the offences and as to sentencing) changes depending on when the offence was committed, the age of the parties involved and the nature of the act committed.

This new edition of the Sexual Offences Handbook has been updated to reflect the latest law, practice and procedure in all cases involving historic and recent sexual offences, providing a step-by-step approach from the perspectives of both prosecution and the defence. Written by practitioners and academics with extensive experience of researching, preparing and presenting such trials, this practical and accessible work will prove an invaluable reference for those working within this specialised area of criminal law.

Felicity Gerry QC specialises in high profile, serious and complex fatal, sexual and violent offences. She is regularly approached to speak on international issues including human trafficking, FGM and rape in conflict zones. Felicity is described in the Legal 500 as a ‘fearless and effective advocate’ and ‘an expert in the field of sexual offences’. She has appeared on all major television and radio networks and writes regularly for the broadsheet and legal press. She holds a research post at Charles Darwin University and has a column in Criminal Law and Justice Weekly.

Catarina Sjölin is a senior lecturer at Nottingham Trent University and holds a First Class Bachelors and Masters degrees in law from Cambridge. She spent 15 years at the Bar ultimately specialising in tough cases involving a wide range of serious violence including murder, abuse of children and sexual offences (recent and historic) appearing on behalf of the defence or prosecution. She has written for Counsel Magazine and Criminal Law and Justice Weekly.

CASE HANDLING
An Illustrated View from the Bench

HH Nicholas Chambers QC

Price: £10.00
ISBN: 9780854901470
Extent: 55 pp
Binding: Paperback in colour

‘Experience of all sorts at the Bar and on the Bench has led to the thought that a few timely words could avoid a lot of grief as well perhaps bringing a smile or two from the pictures.’

At the Bar Nick Chambers did a great variety of cases ranging from the miners’ respiratory claims to the Kuwait Airways litigation. On the Bench his job was to manage and try cases as the Mercantile Judge for Wales and Chester and then for Wales as well as sitting in London in the Commercial Court and other jurisdictions. He was a member of the Civil Procedure Rule Committee at the time of the introduction of the Woolf reforms. He now practices as an arbitrator and mediator from Brick Court Chambers.

The Chambers family’s involvement with watercolours goes back to 1779 with an ancestor’s sketches during the Siege of Gibraltar. Since then each generation has made its own contribution including scenes from Mumbai in the V&A and the first illustrations of the rules of rugby football done at the school in 1845. Illustrations and texts from Nick’s book Missed Moments in Legal History hang in the Rolls Building. The pictures in Case Handling pay a further happy tribute to his past.

This book, with its pithy advice and attractive illustrations, makes taking the serious medicine of case handling a pleasure both for the recently qualified and anyone else with an interest in making dispute resolution work.

THE EVOLUTION OF THE LAND SYSTEM IN CHINA:
Politicized Law?

Yixian Zhao

Law in East Asia Series

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854901432
Extent: 292 pp
Binding: Hardback

This study offers the reader an in-depth analysis of the role of law in China's impressive post-Mao economic transformation, contextualizing the Chinese experience in law and development theory and its application to China. The book makes a substantial contribution to discourses on the very important issue of the nature of the Chinese land system in the transformation from state-planning to the market. It is an on-going debate as to whether demarcated and secure property rights are essential for sustainable economic development. In addition, land is an extremely important issue in China, especially in terms of the role of state and the manner in which the state is dealing with land ownership and other rights in times of change. The book examines the hybrid dynamic of Chinese land law, the multi-layered stakeholders involved, and the varied and divergent incentives for exploiting land. The evolution of mainland China's land system has been shaped by various political and social forces, and the book highlights key aspects of the nature of the law and how complicated the law in action can be in transitional socio-economic systems such as that of China. The book also offers an evaluation of western mainstream theories of property rights and their relevance for understanding the place of land rights in Chinese society.

Dr Yixian Zhao, LLB, LLM and JSD (City University of Hong Kong), is a lecturer in law at Shantou University, and her current research interests are focused on issues of law and development, including in BRICS (that is, the Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa grouping of developing states), and on law and society matters. She has been a research associate and postdoctoral fellow at the School of Law, CityU Hong Kong. She at present teaches Jurisprudence, Law and Development, Sociology of Law and Land Law at Shantou University.

Leading authorities explore the successes and shortcomings of the 1980 Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction in the thirty years that have elapsed since that Convention entered into force. Special attention is given to national legislation implementing the Convention and to judicial practice applying Convention and legislative provisions. The Convention continues to attract ratifications, and lawyers from many countries will find the thoughtful articles contained in this volume helpful in understanding comparative approaches to this increasingly important domain of international legal cooperation.

Robert E. Rains is Emeritus Professor of Law at the Dickinson School of Law, Pennsylvania State University. His career as a family law specialist spans the decades in which the Hague Abduction Convention has been in force

THE LEGAL REGIME OF CHINESE OVERSEAS INVESTMENT

by Chenyang XIE

JCL Studies in Comparative Law No. 11

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854901531
Extent: 290 pp
Binding: Hardback

China has become the first socialist legal system to acquire an interest and the capacity to invest significantly beyond its own borders and abandon the policies of economic autarchy that approaches to socialist economic planning seemed to impose upon predecessor socialist legal systems. In this pathbreaking study, Dr. Chenyang XIE examines how the Chinese legal system regulates – usually by default rather than design – Chinese investor behavior with respect to outward investment opportunities and/or priorities. He offers intelligent and perceptive critiques of legal rules, institutions, systems, and administrative practices, providing suggestions for potential reform or adjustments of these.

Drawing upon the Chinese tradition of codification, the author has prepared a draft Code of Overseas Investment Law, together with Commentary to explain why each formulation is desirable and necessary. In his view, Chinese overseas investment relations are a “legal laboratory” for shaping a constructive legal regime to encourage and regulate such investment. His bold, subtle, and nuanced strategy embodies reservations about the extent to which in a planned economy the State should assume investment risks rather than the non-State sector.

Subjects covered include the Chinese macro policies and concepts of overseas investment, information services, investment promotion, approvals, authorizations, and filings, financial support, foreign exchange regulation, insurance, taxation, and supervision State-owned assets abroad. The draft Code of Overseas Investment Law is the first of its kind for any legal system.

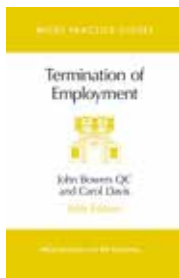

Chenyang XIE received his LL.M. and S.J.D. degrees at the Pennsylvania State University. He has many years of experience with legal aspects of inward and outward Chinese investment flows as a senior legal advisor employed by The Tiens Group in China.
